JAPS TAKE WAR TO INDIA IN TWO AIR RAIDS

OHIO, FEDERAL AIDS SURVEY WATER PLANS

Complete Check of Present System and Proposed Storage Set-Up

ACTION FOLLOWS PLEA FOR U. S. AID

Government Will Assist If Job Is Labeled Essential to Defense

Federal and state officials returned to their respective offices Saturday with reports and recommendations on Salem's plans for a 3,000,000-gallon water storage, after completing an inspection of the water system and checking plans of the proposed improvement.

The visitors, Captain Mark, army staff officer associated with the U. S. Health department, and a Mr. Wagoner, representative of the state board of health, were taken on a tour of the city's well fields and familiarized with project plans by City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff and Service Director Frank Wilson.

The inspection was a direct result of Barckhoff's application to the government for a federal grant to finance the construction of the clear water storage basin.

Plans call for construction of the 3,000,000-gallon water storage basin, just southwest of here, to be followed b ythe erection of a quarter-million gallon overhead storage tank in the eastern part of the city.

If the federal works agency classifies the project as a certified defense job, financial assistance from the government probably will be forthcoming, the city engineer indicated.

The visiting officials, however, refused to comment one way or another on the possibilities. Project data was assembled and turned over to the representatives, at their request.

The cost of the concrete reservoir and connecting mains is about $56,000, according to the engineer's figures. A $26,452 price tag has been placed on the quarter million gallon tank.

APRIL GRAND JURY SESSION IS OPENED

LISBON, April 6.—The April grand jury today opened what is expected to be a non-interesting investigation of 17 cases.

Carter Stroud of East Palestine was named foreman when the jury was seated.

Other jurors are Mrs. Margaret Ernst of Salem, Miss Doris Sauerwein and Mrs. Mary Carnes of Leetonia, H. C. Nolan of Columbiana, Hays Clemens of Wellsville, Ralph Rose and Mrs. Clifford Williams of Lisbon, John G. Davies, Mrs. Anna Shope, Paul Cooper, Robert W. Sample, Jr., Mrs. Ruth McNutt, Ralph Copenhaver and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilhelm of East Liverpool.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, in his charge to the jurors, told them to investigate "anything that comes to your attention."

Knights Templar Attend Church Service, Dinner

Knights Templar and auxiliary members and guests attended a dinner at the Masonic temple yesterday afternoon, following worship service at tthe Methodist church. About 75 members and friends attended the service and dinner.

A dinner will precede the regular Knights Templar meeting on April 14, when plans will be completed for the annual commandery inspection and dinner April 21.

Ohio Plants Break Records As War Production Increases

Labor-Management Committees Back Campaigns At Republic Steel, American Rolling Mill

(By Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, April 6.—Reports of new records in Ohio plants of two steel companies are among the examples cited by the War Production Board to show the gathering momentum of production drives backed by labor-management committees.

Plants of companies in which the committees have been formed have notified the board of their campaigns to boost output, and many of them "report large increases already," said a statement issued here by the Office for Emergency Management.

This report came from "Bill Johnson and Joe Gividen, of the war production drive committee of the Middletown (O.) division of the American Rolling Mill Co.":

"At midnight March 31 all previous monthly production records in the history of this 31-year old steel plant were smashed by blast furnace, open hearth and blooming, bar and strip mill departments. Blast furnace made 1,000 tons more pig iron than any previous month—open hearth produced 3,600 more tons of steel than the best past month—blooming, bar and strip rolled 6,000 more tons of ingots. Men did a grand job in spite of scrap shortage and lighter and poorer scrap. We promise not only to meet these new peaks in the future but to beat them as 1942 unfolds."

Republic Steel Corp. advised the WPB that labor-management committees were being organized in its plants and that it was operating 168 hours a week.

Republic reported an all-time record tonnage of pig iron in March, and continued:

FOOD STAMP COSTS ARE CUT IN MARCH

LISBON, April 6 — Columbiana county's food stamp business for March indicates a further upswing in private industry, as stamps issued to direct relief clients showed a decrease of $860.50 from February's figures although the entire program's decrease amounted to $212.

Orange food stamps, and the free blue surplus commodity stamps were given out in an estimated value of $12,955 in March as compared with $13,167 during February according to a report today by County Stamp Agent Paul Smith.

Welfare categories and the extent of their participation last month were: Direct relief, $5,194.50; WPA, $2,386.50; aid for the aged, $2,041.50; aid for dependent children, $1,804.50; composite cases, $1,318.50; aid for the blind, $91.50 and soldier's and sailors relief, $18.

Speeders Are Fined

Three motorists arrested by the state patrol on charges of speeding on the Damascus road over the weekend, paid fines in Mayor R. R. Johnson's court.

Norman Tellman, 24, of Youngstown, drew a fine of $10 and costs, while Everett Gail Eckstein, 18 of Salem was fined $15 and costs. James Shaffer 34 of Masfield, forfeited a $25 bond upon non-appearance.

Thomas W. Patterson, Jr., 22, of Beaver, Pa., charged with reckless driving was fined $10 and costs at Columbiana following his arrest by the patrol.

U. S. DISPLAYS ITS MILITARY MIGHT

Ohio Observes Army Day, 25th Anniversary of World War Entry

(By Associated Press)

The military might of America at war passed in review for Ohioans this "Army day".

On this 25th anniversary of the nation's entry into othe 1914-1918 World conflict, the people saw their fighting men and the implements—many from Ohio's plants—those men are using.

Planes and ack-ack (anti-aircraft) guns, jeeps and artillery, troops from the field and local defense units carrying hunting rifles—these were in thhe line of march in various cities.

The state house grounds in Columbus bristled with military equipment. Airports at Cleveland, Cincinnati and Dayton displayed bombers and pursuit ships. At Dayton, too, were a pair of Japanese planes shot down during the Pearl Harbor attack and a German junker 88 bagged over England.

300 BRITISH PLANES RAID ARMS PLANTS

Cologne and Aerial Engine Works Near Paris Are Chief Targets

SMASH AT NARVIK AREA IS REPORTED

Troops, Believed to Be Commandos, Strike At Hitler's Flank

(By Associated Press)

The Germans, gathering their strength for the battle of Russia, were struck last night by one of the largest task forces ever marshaled by the RAF—more than 300 bombers—and it was reported concurrently that British troops, presumably commandos, had assailed their Norwegian flank.

Cologne, a Rhineland center of German war industry, and an aerial engine works near Paris were the principal targets of the RAF nightriders with their 1,000 tons of explosions and incendiaries.

It was the 105th raid on Cologne.

Strike at Engine Plant

During an hour and a half in which German anti-aircraft batteries curtained the Paris region with fire and steel, the RAF smashed bombs into the Gnome-Rhone works at Gennevilliers, about three miles from the German-occupied French capital, which the British said had been turning out engine parts and other material for the Germans.

The Germans declared that only slight damage was sustained in the Paris region and "some material damage" and casualties in "residential sections" of western Germany.

Stockholm heard that British troops, apparently a Commando force, raided the Narvik area of German-held Norway last Friday night, supported by planes. Explosions could be heard on the Swedish side of the frontier, which runs close to the coast in that far northern area, almost touching the inner reaches of Narvik fjord.

The authoritative London estimate that the RAF used more than 300 bombers last night was significantly advertised by the British in contrast to the reticence of the past. The figure was a close approach to the 400 bombers the Germans marshaled against London at the height of their assaults less than a year ago.

Last night's force was believed to have included scores of mammoth, four-motored Stirlings, each carrying eight tons of bombs.

Out of this armada, it was said,

BOMBS EXPLODE IN BELFAST THEATER

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, April 6—Three German-type incendiary time bombs exploded harmlessly on Easter in a movie theater which just had been emptied of a Saturday night crowd of United States and British troops, and a search disclosed other explosives hidden in the building.

Besides the explosions, the rattle of gunfire in a running fight between police and members of an armed band marked the anniversary of the so-called Easter rebellion of Irish Republicans who revolted against the British in Dublin 26 years ago and who now, in northern Ireland, are seeking union with neighboring eire.

The theater where the bombing occurred had been requisitioned for shows for British and American troops.

REPULSE NEW BATAAN DRIVE

American - Filipino Forces Halt Japs Who Suffer Heavy Losses

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The war department announced today that American-Filipino forces in Bataan had repulsed another heavy attack on the right center of their line, and frustrated a new attempt by the Japanese to land troops on the east coast of Bataan under cover of darkness.

An assault against the line yesterday was made with great force, a communique reported, with the support of tanks, artillery and dive bombers, but the defenders stopped it after hard fighting. The Japanese were unable to extend the slight gains they had made the day before, the department said, and suffered heavy losses, including a dive bomber shot down by anti-aircraft artillery.

The landing attempt on the east coast of Bataan was halted by light artillery fire from the American-Filipino beach defenses.

Corregidor was free of hostile air raids, but two Japanese dive bombers attacked Forts Frank and Drum, the island fortifications nearest the Cavite shore of Manila bay, but without inflicting either damage or casualties, the communique reported.

The department said a delayed message confirmed dispatches from New Delhi reporting a successful raid by American heavy bombers on the Andaman islands in the Bay of Bengal April 2.

Led by Major General Lewis H. Brereton, commanding American air forces in India, the planes scored direct hits on a Japanese cruiser and a transport, leaving both in flames and observing heavy explosions on them.

Three American planes were damaged slightly, but returned to their base.

NEW YORK, April 6 — Guggenheim Memorial fellowships were awarded two Ohioans. Dr. Wilson March Powell, assistant professor of physics at Kenyon college, will continue his studies in cosmic rays in Colorado, while James E. Peck of Cleveland was granted an award to pursue painting.

HONEYMOON HALTS AS AUTOS CRACK UP

LISBON, April 6.—A Canton couple on their honeymoon escaped injury here this morning when their automobile was struck by another machine on Jackson st., at the west edge of Lisbon.

The groom, Delbert Eugene Cline, 21, and his wife, the former Lucille Zwallen, 19, were enroute to Washington. Cline, a defense worker, was due back at the Timken factory in three days, so the honeymoon trip was abandoned.

Don Carsey of Akron, driver of the other car, and two companions, George Laylax and Paul Loleck, also of Akron, were treated for minor cuts and bruises.

DISCUSS PAYROLL BOND PURCHASING

Employers Invited to Hear Ohio Director Tuesday Evening

Theodore A. Wagner of Cleveland, director of the payroll savings plan for the Defense Savings bonds and stamps staff of Ohio, will speak at the Memorial building at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

In announcing this meeting today, L. H. Colley, general chairman of Defense Bond committees for Salem, stated that manufacturers and other employers have been invited to attend, whether or not they have installed the payroll allotment plan.

While the meeting is primarily to discuss the payroll allotment plan, members of the several committees for the sale of Defense bonds are invited to attend.

Chairman Colley also announced the personnel of the committees which will serve under his direction as follows:

Co-chairman, Ralph Hawley; executive secretary, Charles McCorkhill.

Agricultural groups—Wilbur L. Coy, Price Cope.

Financial institutions and insurance companies—E. M. Stephenson.

NAZIS' SPRING JUMP DELAYED

Chances for Early Launching of Attack Grow Dim, Moscow Says

(By Associated Press)

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, April 6.—The Germans were reported feeling out the Russian front for a possible start of their expected spring offensive, but chances for an early launching of the massive attack grew dim today with new developments.

Soviet reports of drastic weakening of German spring reserves on the southwestern front were considered in informed Russian circles as bound to bring changes in the Nazi strategy.

In addition, Red army claims to have killed 40,000 Germans between March 23 and April 3 on the western front, together with the recapture of 161 communities, were felt to have caused the Germans to modify their plans.

Such western front successes brought new threats to German defenders in the Gzhatsk-Vyazma area, directly west of Moscow on the Smolensk highway, where Red army units have already knifed deep into territory wnich German prisoners have reported as the offensive's starting point.

Another factor which may delay the attack is spring weather now breaking over the Russian plains with accompanying quagmires, mud and slush, making roads, highways and bypaths impassable.

Old Gaiety Lacking In Easter Program

(By Associated Press)

Tradition made America's millions don bright spring clothes yesterday but it could not make America's millions smile with the joy of another Easter.

Gone was the gaiety of a peacetime Easter for this was the nation's first wartime Easter in 24 years and everywhere the celebrants were subdued.

But everywhere, too, was audible a reassuring note—the steady, holidayless hum of war plants turning out guns and tanks and plants.

Half-a-million New Yorkers, by police estimate, paraded Fifth ave., but although this was the largest Easter crowd to swarm the thoroughfare in 20 years, somehow the glitter, the glamor, the gladness just wasn't there.

The martial air created by a liberal sprinkling of khaki and blue uniforms among the civilian paraders were further carried out by the army, navy and New York guard which, with police and civilian defense units, used the holiday weekend to stage New York's first successful rehearsal of all defense groups.

In Washington, a head cold kept President Roosevelt from attending church.

Along the west coast, army restrictions prevented the usual crowds from gathering near the ocean, and in Miami, sunrise services were held inland in fear of possible submarines offshore.

But in Detroit and other manufacturing centers the order of the day was the same as that of any present day for the assembly lines' output of the tools of war:

"Keep 'em rolling."

TWO COASTAL CITIES MADE BOMB TARGETS

Both Lie On Eastern Shore Between Calcutta and Madras

REPORTS MENTION FEW CASUALTIES

Axis Has Costly Weekend, Losing At Least 159 Warplanes

(By Associated Press)

NEW DELHI, April 6.—Japanese bombers carried the war to India proper today by raids on two coastal cities north of Madras, the British announced officially. The planes were based on an aircraft carrier, operating with a Japanese task force in the Bay of Bengal.

Nizampatam, a town situated at the mouth of the Kistna river, was attacked twice.

Cocanada also was raided. It is on the coast north of Nizampatam. Both lie between Madras and Calcutta.

The raids followed closely on an attack Sunday on Colombo, Ceylon, in which the British defenders shot down 27 planes and damaged 30 others.

Slight damage to the harbor area was reported from Nizampatam while a few casualties were reported at Cocanada.

(The two coastal towns on the Bay of Bengal lie in the territory where British warships are reported to be seeking a Japanese aircraft carrier from which the bombing planes operate and her escort vessels.

(Cocanada is a town of 40,000 population, the capital of the provincial district and has a large export trade.

(Nizampatam, of only 5,000 population, is situated in the irrigation system area near the Kistna river delta where it flows into Bengal bay.)

Axis Has Costly Weekend
(By Associated Press)

Germany, Italy and Japan suffered one of their costliest weekends of the air war during the past two days, according to official Allied announcements listing at least 159 Axis planes shot down or destroyed on the ground, with 51 or more others damaged.

The heaviest toll was taken on the Russian front. The Russians said 102 German planes were shot down or blasted to bits on the ground on Saturday alone, and the Red air force was credited in a communique today with knocking down four more.

Japan took the second heaviest loss-destruction of at least 27 of the 75 planes she hurled against Ceylon Easter morning. The British, who met the raid with a hard-hitting fighter plane and anti-aircraft defense, said five more Japanese planes probably were destroyed, and 25 were damaged.

Twenty more Japanese planes were destroyed and others were damaged in the trading of aerial blows with United States and Australian fighting forces. Of these, 11 were destroyed and 14 damaged in United States and Australian raids on Koepang, Dutch Timor, Saturday. Seven were destroyed in Japanese attacks on Darwin and Port Moresby the same day, and two others were shot down near Port Moresby Sunday.

At the British mid-Mediterranean stronghold of Malta six Axis planes were shot down, a seventh probably was destroyed, and six more were damaged during attacks by German and Italian planes Saturday and Sunday.

TWO HIGHWAY JOBS UNDER WAY TODAY

LISBON, April 6.—Two state highway jobs got under way in Columbiana county today.

The Carl Meyers Construction Co. of Salem, Ind., resumed work on the Route 30 improvement, just south of here, intending to install catch basins and guard rails and pour the concrete approaches to the 3.5-mile stretch. The work is not expected to be completed before June 31.

The second project opened at East Palestine, where N. Market st. is being widened and resurfaced by the state highway department. Curb boxes, poles and other installations have been set back.

Davey Urges Faith

COLUMBUS, April 6.—Former Gov. Martin L. Davey today urged faith in the leaders of the Allied nations.

In a formal statement—his first public utterance in more than a year—Davey rebuked those who cast "caustic criticism" and asserted the leaders must be trusted.

Lone Sergeant Stands Off Landing Party; Reporter Cites Luzon Heroism

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Clark Lee, Associated Press correspondent who chronicled the heroic exploits of General MacArthur's men on Bataan peninsula for more than two months, discloses for the first time in his dispatch that he himself was injured at the front. Lee, who recently arrived in Australia, characteristically subordinates his own story to that of the men with whom he shared the dangers of war.)

By CLARK LEE.

MELBOURNE, April 6—Despite all that has been written about the courageous defenders of Bataan peninsula, there still are many tales of individual heroism that never have been told.

There is, for instance, the story of a black night when Capt. Arthur Wermuth was pussyfooting behind the Japanese lines.

He suddenly bumped into about 20 shadowy figures, the first of whom murmured a warning "S-s-s-s-h-h-h!"

Wermuth, realizing he had run into a Japanese patrol, replied "S-s-s-s-s-h-h-h!"

Then he drew a firing pin from a grenade, pressed the missile into the hand of the Japanese, closed the man's fingers and tiptoed away into the darkness with another admonishing "S-s-s-h-h-h!"

The Japanese opened his fingers a moment or so later, releasing the firing mechanism, and xxxxxx!

Then there is the story of the Filipino scout who fell in behind a Japanese scouting party of 11 men. The Filipino drew out his bolo, lopped off the head of the nearest man and then cut the whole column down, one by one, from behind.

At Davao an American sergeant, named May, of the 31st U. S. infantry, made a lone stand against a Japanese warship attempting to cover a landing party. Equipped with a 50-caliber machine-gun mounted on a truck, May mowed down boatload after boatload of Japanese as they came ashore.

The warship finally shot the truck out from under him, but he came back with another and went to work again. It was estimated he accounted for at least 250 Japanese.

I have been trying to recall when I had my biggest scare during the campaign in Luzon. Frankly, I was scared every time there was a loud explosion nearby—and that was often.

I probably was lucky to get out with nothing more serious than a broken hand, suffered while diving into a foxhole to escape strafing planes, and a few small scars—the result of being blown off a dock at Corregidor by a shell.

A stick of six bombs which exploded about 50 yards away while I was visiting some marine buddies in their trench at Corregidor also left me with one deaf ear—but it was partly bad before that.

During the first frantic days in Manila after the war started there was considerable indiscriminate shooting in the streets, and Russell Brines, also of The Associated Press, and I had a narrow escape when a sentry fired a shot through the rear door of an automobile in which we were riding.

25 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

The United States has had 25 years of experience since it declared war on Germany the first time. It has learned a lot.

Most of the important lessons have been crammed into the last few years, some of the most important ones into the last few months. For instance, the United States knows better now than to underestimate the Germans or any nationality schooled to think the German way, chiefly the Japanese.

Unfortunately, this lesson wasn't learned in time to avert World war II, which now plainly is nothing but World war I continued after a 24-year armistice. During the armistice, the Germans prepared to resume the war and bring it to a successful conclusion. The United States and its friends marked time, stewed about such momentous matters as whether or not every person was entitled to a mule and 40 acres or two cars in every garage and prepared to get their ears knocked off. They know better now. They are trying to make up for lost time. The gamble in the war is whether or not they can do it. The Germans and the Japanese, who counted on that very thing, are betting their shirts it can't be done. The United States, Great Britain and their allies are betting their shirts it can be done. Some of the allies, the Netherlands, for instance, and Poland and Greece already have lost their shirts on the bet.

Another thing the United States has learned since April 6, 1917, is not to underestimate the Russians. On April 6, 1942, it looks as though everything depended on them. Either they hold Germany this summer or someone else will have to hold them—and there isn't anyone else. In World war II as in World war I, Russia is the key to the outcome. It is no wonder Adolf Hitler hates everything about Russia. It spoiled Kaiser Wilhelm's plan of conquest and it threatens to spoil his. A lot of ideas about Russia are being revised—except the one fixed idea that any nation which takes its goodwill for granted is asking for an unpleasant surprise.

But chiefly what has been learned in 25 years of experience is that peace cannot be had for nothing. If the United States had spent one-tenth as much money and effort on averting war as it is going to spend on winning it there wouldn't have been any war. It wouldn't have been helpless when Germany tried to knock out the British. It could have done something about France, except wail. It wouldn't have been set up so prettily for the Japanese sucker punch at Pearl Harbor. But Americans liked to think that peace was so wonderful no one would break it. They liked to think they were giving peace a boost by refusing to stand guard over it. The whole thing—now that peace has been destroyed—seems about as sensible as sending a note to the burglar: We trust you, pal, so please use the back kitchen window.

Most of these lessons, no doubt, will get lost again in the confusion of the next few years. The world has been accumulating experience for the last ten thousand years and still doesn't have enough to help it much. But if only one thing can be salvaged, it will represent a net profit. If only the United States can realize that it is potent enough to have the kind of a world it wants after it has kept the Japanazis from having the kind of a world they want!

ROLLING ALONG

Transportation, nemesis of many a warring nation, has been complicated for the United States by Germany's successful submarine drive on coastal shipping. The government has announced an 800 percent increase in tank car shipments of oil and petroleum alone to the eastern section of the country. Whole trains of tank cars have become a common sight on railroad lines.

This extra responsibility has been handled with no apparent complications. The railroads are doing what they said last summer they were equipped to do if it became necessary. At the same time, they are handling similarly huge increases in other freight loads. In the immediate future, they expect an enormous rise in passenger traffic, added to the already accelerating rate of passenger travel.

The situation recalls the premature burial of the railroad business by amateur morticians. It had been knocked into a cocked hat by trucks, buses and passenger automobiles, was the verdict. All that remained was to pick up the pieces and retire as much of the bonded debt as possible. The government might have to take charge to assure an orderly settlement. If not already dead, the railroads were mortally ill. They were at the mercy of competition that was too tough, labor that was too demanding, politicians that were too capricious.

It is one of the few pleasant surprises of the war so far that the railroads seem to be doing what is expected of them so well that no one has had any reason lately to moan and groan about their condition.

READ AND WEEP

Almost everybody who doesn't happen to possess any special information will admit cheerfully that the problem of India's independence is too complicated to understand. Yet, not everything about the Indian situation is that way. There is this paragraph, for instance, from an United Press dispatch:

"British spopkesmen indicated that the Japanese landing at Akyab, Burmese port on the Bay of Bengal, 75 miles from the Indian border and 320 miles east of Calcutta, has heightened the urgency of Sir Stafford Cripps' mission."

Elsewhere in the same dispatch, it was related that Sir Stafford had been given a free rein to negotiate with India for the best arrangement possible. When something has been worked out—as it undoubtedly will be—the job of raising an Indian army, mobilizing the country for war, getting the materials to the right places, mapping out strategy and training the various specialists needed for the successful prosecution of the kind of war the Japanese are fully prepared to fight can be tackled. This should take, if all goes well, about five years.

Meanwhile, the Japanese, who had reached a point 75 miles from India before the British finally conceded that this was no time to argue but to start acting, will be headed for a celebrative splash in the Ganges river and some candid camera work in the streets of Bombay. Even the reluctant British and the stubborn Indian Nationalists can't be expected to bet their shirts that the Japanese won't be through with their Indian operations before the other side gets into position to say, "Now look here, you yellow rascals."

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, April 7

THE ASTRAL auguries for this day are rather conflicting and complicated, indicating that sagacity, vigilance, persistency and good grace may turn very definite obstacles, oppositions and duplicity into profilic and profitable channels. These sound qualities should be supported by quickened intuitions, imagination and subtle leadings, which are to be found dependable and wise. Antagonism may come from elders, strangers or regular business associates.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the eve of a year of splendid progress and opportunity, but such must be safeguarded by finesse, diplomacy, keen understanding as well as intuition and inner guidance. The psychic and intellectual qualities are under great stimuli, to be used with sagacity and sound logic. Antagonism from relatives, elders or strangers should be shrewdly placated.

A child born on this day may be endowed with splendid talents for success and high station in life, although this be beset by treachery or antagonism.

CAN SPRING BE FAR BEHIND?

DYSPEPSIA CAUSES MANY AND VARIED

Number of Processes Essential to Good Digestion

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

DYSPEPSIA may be defined in a broad way as any disturbance of the digestion.

Digestion starts in the mouth, depends on good teeth, then depends on the swallowing power of the esophagus, and then is continued in the stomach and then continued in the intestines with the help of the pancreas and its juices and the liver and the bile and then depends on the action of thirty or more feet of large and small intestine. All of these processes may be attacked by infection or mechanical derangements, especially by emotional disturbances or interferences of the mind, so it is not surprising that dyspepsia is quite common and that it requires a good deal of unraveling to make a good diagnosis.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Effects of the Liver

Consider one thing: The liver and the bile ducts. When surgeons began to operate on this part of the anotomy, which was about the early 90's of the last century, they immediately announced to the medical world, on the basis of their operative experience, that a great many cases of chronic dyspepsia that had been so treated for many years were relieved when gall stones were removed or when the gall bladder was drained or removed.

Nor is it surprising that these conditions should be very common. The anatomy of the body is so arranged that all of the material absorbed from the intestines goes up through the portal vein to the liver. So since a great deal of this material is poisonous, one of the chief functions of the liver is that of detoxification.

It really stands as a guardian for the rest of the body and empties that aterial which comes from the intestines of its poisonous qualities. It is not surprising that occasionally it is not up to the job and some of the poison gets past it and causes some trouble in doing so.

Germs From the Intestines

Also, since the intestines are constantly filled with germs of all kinds, it is not surprising that a great deal of the material that reaches the liver by way of the portal vein should be loaded with germs. These the liver discharges into the bile and all too often they arrive in the gall bladder and set up an inflammation of the walls of this organ.

Thus we have the formation of gall stones. A germ lies on the wall of the gall bladder and the gall bladder secretes a mucous to surround the germ and this acts as a foreign body on which the salts of the gall bladder are deposited. If you see a picture of a gall stone cut across the middle, it shows rings like the rings of the tree, which mark the successive deposits of layers of these bile salts.

After the stones have formed, they can raise all kinds of trouble making a person uncomfortable in the region of the stomach with gas, flatulence, nausea and actual gall stone colic. Thus we see that the various normal functions of the digestive tract may be turned awry and these upsets lead to one form or another of the common symptom, dyspepsia.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. L.: "Please advise me what the normal blood pressure would be for persons of the following ages, 50, 65, and 70."

Answer: According to figures published by the life insurance companies, the following are average readings at different age periods: 15, systolic, 107, diastolic, 74; ages 20 to 40, systolic 112 to 125 diastolic, 60 to 80; 40 to 60, systolic, 125 to 135, diastolic 80 to 85; 60 to 80, systolic 135 to 165, diastolic, 50 to 75. These however are average. About one-third of all persons over 50 have a systolic blood pressure over 150.

T. M.: "What is the cause of a ruptured navel? Is there any cure for it?"

Answer: Umbilical hernia occurs in two periods of life, one in the new-born in which the cause is due simply to non-closure of the navel opening and the other is in middle aged, overweight people in which the excessive fat weakens the navel opening and in coughing or straining, a hernia is produced.

L. B. A.: "Is the flu type pneumonia or any other type contagious?"

Answer: Genuine influenza is very contagious in any form. Other types of pneumonia have not been found to be very contagious. or instance, other members of the household where a pneumonia patient is being nursed or hospital attendants do not often catch the disease, but there is no question that the inhalation of sputum, particles and droplets from the patient's breath are infectious to people. For this reason the pneumonia patient's bed should be protected by sheets and attendants should wear gauze masks.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Criticized MacArthur, Held

Ellis O. Jones and Robert Noble

Arraigned on charges of sedition in connection with criticism of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and America's war effort, Ellis O. Jones, left, and Robert Noble were held in Los Angeles in default of $10,000 bail each. The state has filed charges of criminal libel against them, alleging that they wrote in a magazine published by the Friends of Progress that MacArthur, in leaving Bataan for Australia, "just ran out in the dead of night . . ." Jones is shown at left, behind bars on another charge when this picture was taken.

MATA HARI'S Daughter

By MAURICE DEKOBRA and LEYLA GEORGIE

SYNOPSIS

Sir John Sanderson, British Intelligence chief, has just learned that Mara, his ace woman agent, has betrayed important secrets to the elusive Ajax, head of the Nazi spies in England. His aide, Capt. Hugh Kenley, also reported that a parachutist has landed near London and vanished in an unknown girl's car. Sir John realized that Mara's treason makes his official position desperate. He must resign or . . . As he gripped his pistol, a familiar voice outside his residential office interrupted. He slipped the weapon back into a drawer when greeting his ward, beautiful Brinda Duncan, who pleads with him for war service as a spy. He is strongly opposed to this, but evades the issue. Suddenly two shots are heard from the street, and Orderly Hunt announces that Captain Kenley had been murdered. Agent Donovan, on guard duty, describes the fugitive killer as "a big fellow with a limp" who "got out of Miss Brinda's car." . . . Sir John tried to question Kenley, who managed to whisper a few words. . . . Brinda told Sir John how she had given a lift to "a poor fellow with a sprained ankle. . . . He looked and talked like an Englishman." She is directed to try and "pick him out" in the official "spy gallery" later. Brinda then receives a mysterious 'phone warning: "What happened to Mara? . . . Silence, or—death." . . . Later, Brinda was going through Intelligence photos when Sir John introduced her to Lieut. Richard Malden, who just previously had told "Sandy" of a bombing attempt, that morning, on the former's laboratory in which Dick was making some vital war experiments. Brinda and Dick recognize each other as former schoolday sweethearts.

"I don't even know whom Gladys is going to marry" . . . "Allow me to present him . . . Richard Malden, at your service."

CHAPTER SIX

"Good Lord!" The young lieutenant eyed her with amazed respect. "You've certainly come on!"

Brinda returned his look with interest.

"So have you—Lieutenant Malden."

"But you're really a knockout, Brinda. . . . My word, how long ago was it?"

"It was six years," said Binda, her eyes dancing. "To be exact, six years lacking three months. I was sixteen and you were—"

"Nineteen, I guess," supplied Malden.

"You were very bright, I seem to recall, and not bad looking either. All we girls at Miss Cartwright's were gone on you."

Malden's face turned slightly red. "Don't rag a fellow. You know they weren't . . . I mean nobody was."

"I was," said Brinda, looking him full in the eyes.

"Eh! What do you mean?"

"You know very well I was crazy about you, Dick Malden," responded Brinda. "But you were simply impossible. Such a wretched boy! Always making dates and breaking them, then coming around with some story about being busy in the physics laboratory."

Malden frowned. "Well, that was true. I was trying for the Carver scholarship. Maybe I was a little absent-minded."

"It wasn't that," and there was a quiver of remembered hurt in Brinda's voice as she went on, "I didn't mind your being absent-minded—when it was your studies, Dick. But the last time, the time you broke your last date with me, it wasn't your studies. Do you remember, Dick—it was a dance at Eton Hall."

"It was?" Malden looked immensely puzzled. "A dance- Now what could have kept me from going to a dance with you?"

"It was another girl, if I must tell you."

"No!"

"Yes, another girl. You see, I have a better memory than you, Dick. I could even tell you her name. But don't look so distressed. All that is ages ago, and I'm really not in love with you now. You went to America, didn't you?"

"Yes, yes. Quite." Malden was obviously relieved at the new trend in the conversation. "They've jolly good technical schools there . . . and then the pater made me come back and go in the navy. Said there was a war coming—and the old fellow was right, by Jove! But what have you been doing besides getting to be a raving beauty? I mean, what are you doing here? You're not in Intelligence by any chance?"

"Don't you remember?"

"Of course. You're Sir John's niece, or something of the sort. I'd almost forgotten."

"That's characteristic," said Brinda. Uneasy under the steady stare of his intent gray-green eyes, she moved a step away. Her arm brushed a file of the indexed photos and it fell to the floor.

"Oh!"

Together she and Malden bent to pick up the scattered cards. As they rose, Brinda found her face close to the tanned countenance of the naval officer. Suddenly a firm strong hand closed on her arm.

"Brinda, I didn't forget! It was something else. I was a fool."

For a moment, Brinda swayed toward him. Then she pulled her arm away.

"Nonsense, Dick," she said briskly. "It's all too long ago to make any difference. We were only school children anyway. . . . Here, help me straighten these cards."

"Oh, very well," with a disgruntled air, he complied.

Watching him from the corner of her eyes, Brinda realized that the years had made him even more attractive than the Dick Malden of her school days. He still had a slightly professorial look, due to an austere profile, a high forehead and a granite chin. But the mouth was sensitive and the chin was relieved by something very like a boyish dimple. She remembered how that blend of adult competence in juvenile naivete had appealed to her in the days when she was attending the fashionable Cartwright Academy and Dick was an undergraduate at one of England's famous public schools in the next town.

She winced recalling it—winced, too, at the remembrance of that night of disillusionment when she had discovered the real reason for Dick's failing to keep that engagement, which in those days had seemed so overwhelmingly important. She had pictured him that summer night as bending over charts and blueprints in a physics laboratory. Instead, he was at the dance with her schoolmate, the beautiful Lady Gladys Mountwyn, heiress to the Mountwyn steel millions . . . The daughter of the same Lord Mountwyn who had figured in the recent scene attending Kenley's murder.

Apparently Malden had been doing some speculating, too, for he suddenly asked her: "Are you working with Sir John in Intelligence, Brinda? Or if not, just what are you doing here."

Some instinct cautioned Brinda to guard her words. "Talking to you mostly, it seems," she smiled. "And you?"

"I?" His face was as disarmingly ingenuous as the face of the 19-year-old Dick Malden of by-gone days. "I'm looking for a chap who tried to blow me up?"

"Blow you up? How unkind!"

"Rather. And he came precious near doing it, too." There was a note of grieved anger in Malden's voice. "I caught a glimpse of the duffer and I'm trusting I'll find his picture in here."

"But why would anyone want to blow you up?"

"Well, strictly speaking, the chap wasn't after me but my laboratory. My invention, you know. No doubt Sir John has told you all about it."

Brinda smiled enigmatically. Until the last twenty-four hours, she could not recall Sir John as having told her anything about the inner workings of the British Intelligence Office.

"You mean—?"

He was wholly unsuspicious. "The Z-Ray," he said. "It's an amazing affair, if we can only handle it. So naturally it wouldn't do to have the place dynamited right now."

A voice interrupted from the doorway—one of Sir John's secretaries. "Lieutenant Malden! Lord Mountwyn just called. He asks you to remember you have a rather important engagement at his home tonight."

Abruptly Brinda turned.

"Dick, it doesn't happen to be Lord Mountwyn's that you're visiting tonight?"

"Why, yes!"

"Then I'll see you again soon."

"You'll be there?" Malden's expression was unreadable.

"Yes. I scarcely ever see Gladys any more, but Sandy—Sir John—wants me to go. He and Lord Mountwyn have some business, I think."

"Ripping! I'll be waiting to welcome you." But the tone was not as hearty as the words.

Brinda looked at him wide-eyed, an uneasy premonition forming in her mind. . . . But that would be impossible. . . . The rich, ambitious Lady Gladys . . . Dick, the young scion of the ancient but notoriously impecunious Malden family. . . . She made the plunge.

"Isn't it shameful? It's an engagement party and I don't even know whom Gladys is going to marry. You do, of course?"

"Allow me to present him: Richard Malden. . . . At your service . . ."

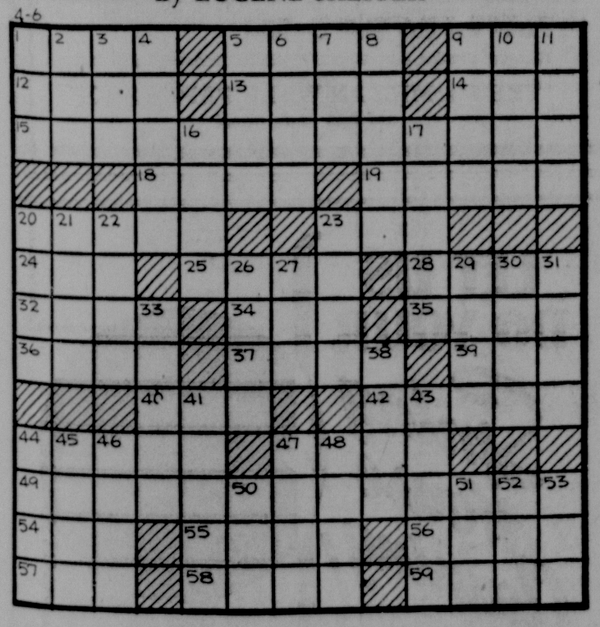

Brinda mustered her brightest smile. But there was no joy in her heart—only sudden desolation and slow creeping anger.

This is a Tank It is used for national defense

This is a Steel Mill
It is used for making tanks

This is a Workman
He is busy making the steel that is used for making tanks

If it weren't for the steel mill—if it weren't for the steel worker—there would be no tanks.

But there are steel mills, and there were steel mills and steel workers, before we knew we needed tanks.

WHY WERE THERE?

Because steel was needed for other things, peacetime things like cars, rails, stoves, refrigerators, radios, locks, fixtures and household utensils.

Advertising told the public about these things. Then the public wanted these things in mass quantities.

Because the public bought in mass quantities, costs came down as more and more things were made. As costs went down, prices went down and more and more of the public could buy.

As more things were made, more steel was used. More workmen were needed to make it. More and more steel mills went to work.

That is how advertising, which created mass demand and kept mass demand alive by constant repetition, made mass production possible.

And mass production before the emergency is what is making it possible for us to have tanks and guns and bombers today. It is what will give us the things we want, at prices we can pay, after the war is won.

Miss McCarthy, David Hart Wed In Presbyterian Church

Miss Jean Frances McCarthy became the bride of David William Hart of Cleveland in an open church wedding Saturday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church here. Rev. Raymond D. Walter, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The church altar was decorated with vases of white spring flowers. A program of organ music, played by Mrs. Gail Herron, preceded the ceremony. Her numbers included: "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise"; "Some Day"; "O Sole Mio" (Sunrise and You); "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling"; "In Apple Blossom Time"; "O Promise Me" "The Wedding March" from "Lohengrin" and "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn.

Attendants were Miss Reba Dilworth and Richard McConnor of Cleveland. Ushers were John Stone of Lorain and William Jones of this city.

Wears Aqua

The bride wore an aqua street frock of aqua crepe with purple accessories and carried white roses. Miss Dilworth wore purple with white accessories and carried yellow daffodils.

Mrs. McCarthy, mother of the bride, was in grey and Mrs. Hart, mother of the groom, wore navy blue.

Reception and dinner were held at the home of the bride following the ceremony and informal reception at the church. Guests at the dinner were members of the immediate families, the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Lulu M. McCarthy of E. Fourth st. and Harrison L. McCarthy of Lisbon, is a graduate of Salem High school, class of 1937, and of Ohio Wesleyan university. She is a teacher and dramatics instructor at Salem High school.

Mr. Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lynn Hart of Columbus, formerly of Salem, graduated from Salem High school in 1938, and from Case School of Applied Science and Cleveland college in Cleveland. He is an audit accountant in the Federal Reserve bank in Cleveland.

700,000 EXPECTED IN REGISTRATION

COLUMBUS, April 6.—An estimated 700,000 Ohioans between the ages of 45 and 65 will be registered in the fourth draft on April 25, 26 and 27, state selective service headquarters said today.

Col. C. W. Goble, state draft chief, instructed local boards to prepare for registration of approximately 50 per cent more men than the 463,531 signed up in the third registration in February.

A presidential proclamation set Monday, April 27, between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. for the fourth registration, but Gov. John W. Bricker added the preceding Saturday and Sunday between noon and 6 p. m. to accommodate any who might find it difficult to sign up Monday.

Except for those in the army or navy, registration is required of all males — citizens or aliens — who reached 45 on or before Feb. 16 and did not attain 65 by April 27, 1942.

Men were urged to register at their own draft boards, but if unable to do so may register at the nearest board and their card will be forwarded to their home area.

REPAIR COST CUT BY LUBRICATION

It Costs Little for Expert Service At Wiggers' Station

It certainly is a fact that more repair bills are paid garages because the grease gun was not used on the vital parts of cars with its charge of lubricant than would be paid if these parts had been lubricated at regular intervals.

Pete Wiggers calls attention to the fact that $10 or $12 will keep any car properly lubricated for a year, protecting you from repair bills that often amount to much more than this for just being careless about having the lubricating done once when it should be. He also states "Often the part that gives out because of lack of lubrication causes an accident that is more serious."

Right now the crankcase oil should be changed to a summer grade, the differential and transmission lubricants should be washed out and hot weather grade added. Wiggers has a special price on this needed service at this time.

Radiators should be flushed and the entire cooling system checked, batteries and ignition need going over to assure you of the best service, and all these things are less expensive now than they will be if put off.

Wiggers' Sales and Service, 166 S. Ellsworth ave., make a specialty of lubrication service. You can depend upon it. Only an experienced employe will handle the job from start to finish.

Plenty of Seed Available at Salona Supply Co. Store

You can disregard all the scare talk you may have heard regarding the scarcity of garden seed, according to C. R. Green, pictured above, who has charge of the seed department of the Salona Supply company on W. Pershing st.

Holmes Seeds have been featured by the Salona Supply company for many years. Their hundreds of customers continually report most excellent results and the list grows year by year. Holmes seed is sold in bulk, for the most economical way to purchase. The Salona Supply company sells many hundreds of pounds to commercial gardeners and hundreds purchase in small quantities for their home gardens. This year the company has already found the demand to be much greater because of the many war gardens that will be planted.

USED BY DISTRICT FARMS FOR YEARS

Quarter of Century of Experience Behind Master Mix Product

For a number of years, poultrymen in the Salem district have been reporting outstanding results from the use of feeds purchased from the Salona Suply company on W. Pershing st.

Chick starter, broiler ration and growing mashes are popular with the successful poultry producer and with the farmer who uses his own grain to cut down his feeding costs to a most profitable minimum. Elevator services of The Salona Supply Co. are available to prepare grains for feeding and for mixing with concentrates.

Master Mix 32 per cent chick concentrate is the result of a quarter of a century of experience in meeting the needs of poultry raisers. This outstanding feed, sold at Salona Supply, includes the animal and vegetable proteins, the vitamins and minerals so necessary for a completely balanced ration.

Feeds Give Results

Use of Master Mix concentrate provides ingredients not found in sufficient amounts in home grown grains. Tested ingredients of high quality are supplemented with the Salona elevator provided a special mixing chart to check feeds with those proved highly successful by thousands of poultry raisers.

Poultry, dairy, hog and other livestock feeds sold by Salona Supply Co. are sold with the one thought in mind of producing results for the feeder. Prices are kept in favorable comparison with those of similar quality sold by other firms. To this is added hauling service, use of a modern elevator, and an efficient staff of employes anxious to please every customer.

The firm's office has a large supply of feeding booklets to assist customers in choosing the proper feeding formula and the most successful feeding methods. These booklets on feeding will be provided without cost.

Orders are being taken now by the elevator for fertilizer and seeds to be delivered whenever desired. Nationally advertised fertilizers which have been on the market for years are sold.

Fence In Demand

Field seeds, hybrid seed corn and other farm seeds are handled by the elevator for many buyers each year. Delivery of fertilizer and seeds will be made of orders, or amounts asked by a customer will be set aside for his later visit to the W. Pershing st. plant.

Wire fence, steel and wooden fence posts, paints and many other farm supplies handled arre in demand as the spring season comes along. Visit the elevator when time will permit, or telephone 3745 for orders, elevator service and delivery by the company's fleet of trucks.

Garment Storage At Paris Cleaners Meets Many Needs

The garment storage vault at the Paris Cleaners plant, filling a fundamental need for safe keeping of valuable garments through the warm weather months, will be used by more families than ever this year, it has been indicated.

It was constructed a year ago by the Paris Cleaners and instantly met with a warm welcome.

Protection Against Enemies

Garment vaults are built for protection against four enemies—mildew, moths, burglars and fire. Furs, the most valuable garments, are attacked most viciously by moths and mildew, then woolens next, and so on down the line as though moths and mildew knew the relative value of garments as the burglars do.

Moths are exterminated by careful and thorough fumigation in fume tight vaults. Furs and woolens are put immediately into a demothing chamber as they are received and then stored in a vault which is periodically fumigated as an insurance and guarantee that all moths are killed.

Mildew is a dangerous enemy, too. But mildew is absolutely eliminated in storage vaults by dehumidifying machinery controlled specifically to meet the conditions in garment storage vaults.

Special humidity and temperature control is a feature of the vault mechanism at the Paris Cleaners. And this is particularly necessary for garment storage.

Oil Must Be Retained

Low humidities dry the natural oils from the fur skins and greatly shorten the life of fur coats by rendering the skins brittle and weak. Each hair of a fur is a very thin capillary tube which draws just sufficient oil from the skin to keep a thin film of oil over the hair.

It is this oil acting as a polish which causes furs to glisten and sparkle after the glazing operations. This oil is lost gradually by contact and evaporation from the skin as long as the skin has oil to supply.

When the oil supply is gone the fur loses its luster, the skin becomes brittle and weak and the life of the coat has neared its end.

Every woman is familiar with the excessive dryness in her 45-degree electric refrigerator, which shrivels and drys her vegetables if they are not protected. Cold storage vaults with ice box temperatures dry up fur coats just as surely as the electric ice box does vegetables.

Consequently, the Paris Cleaners' vault has humidifying equipment to regulate the air content.

SPRING IS SEASON FOR LANDSCAPING

Cope Bros., Fultz Suggest Trees and Shrubs To Beautify Home

Putting it off will never aid the beauty to your home grounds that phoning the Cope Bros. and Fultz Nursery will accomplish, and right now is the best time of the whole year to put in that phone call for a representative to come and council with you regarding the planting of shade trees, fruit trees and shrubbery that you will enjoy for years to come.

Most shrubbery and trees that are transplanted are three to five years old; they have been grown with the greatest of care, and it is just good common judgment to transplant them at the time of year they are dormant so they can spring to life and reestablish themselves under favorable growing conditions. Spring right now, is the most favorable time.

Cope Bros. and Fultz on the Depot road, have thousands of young well-grown trees and shrubs ready to produce that wished-for effect around your home. Many varieties are not in the least expensive; in fact, a very few dollars will transform a house to a home, one that you will be proud of and the envy of those that are less fortunate. And, perhaps, of greater importance if you are looking at it in a cold dollar and cents way, a well planned landscaping will add more dollar value to your property than its cost by several times.

Mr. Cope invites you to his nursery. He prefers that you see the shrubs and evergreens growing rather than merely pictures of the many varieties. In fact, you can pick out the very plant you wish delivered and he will arrange for the grading and transplanting. If you wish him to complete the entire program, it is suggested you arrange for this service a few days in advance.

Shortage of Coal Possible, Warning

The likelihood of a coal shortage next fall and winter is not idle talk, according to W. W. Tolerton of the Citizens Ice and Coal company.

Railroads will be taxed to the limit, mines will be operating overtime to supply the factories and the shortage of the man power to handle the winter's home supply, tire shortages, and many other conditions combine to make it wise to get your coal bins filled to overflowing just as soon as possible.

The government has said that April is the best month to fill your coal bins. They know weeks ahead what the demands are going to be. It's certainly good judgment to heed these warnings.

Up to the present the Citizens Ice and Coal company has been able to keep on hand any kind and size of coal their customers demand. This condition simply cannot be depended upon and so it is possible to help the war effort by placing orders for next winter now.

More Order Numbers

Here is the final instalment of draft numbers, showing the order in which possible selectees in the Salem district, in the 20-44 year group, will receive questionnaires. Because of the possibility of error in the transmission of the original list as set up in Washington, this list, unofficial, is prepared to show the approximate position of each registrant. The final, official list, as compiled by the draft board from corrected lists from the national selective service headquarters in Washington, may vary a few points either way.

PIRATES HOLD TOP SPOT IN STANDINGS OF CITRUS CIRCUIT

Browns and Senators May Make American League Race Interesting

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 6.—Teams are going home from spring training, pitchers are going the route in exhibitions and the fans are going in circles—all of which means that major league baseball is about ready to get going in the pennant races of 1942.

With little more than a week to wait until they start playing for keeps, the teams in the American league are out in front of the National leaguers in exhibition competition today by five games.

Representatives of the junior circuit have triumphed in 55 of the 105 spring training battles involving opponents from the opposite side of the majors.

Equally as unimportant is the fact that five weeks' play in the grapefruit belt has elevated three clubs in each league as the ones to beat when the chips go down.

Class of the Leagues

The Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers top the senior circuit while the St. Louis Browns, Washington Senators and New York Yankees look like the class of the American league.

The Pirates head the grapefruit standings, just two percentage points ahead of the Browns, with whom they have been running neck and neck for a couple of weeks.

Pittsburgh has won 17 of its 23 games to date, including 10 out of 13 against American league teams and four out of six in the National league.

The Browns, who own a record of 14 victories and five defeats, have won nine of their 10 inter-league tilts and two out of three against other American leaguers.

More impressive, however, is the record of the Senators, who have played 25 games and won 18 of them.

Third in the grapefruit standings, the Nats have come up with seven out of 10 against other American league clubs and 10 out of 14 with National entries.

MILWAUKEE KEGLER FIRES 727 AT ABC

COLUMBUS, April 6.—Big Russ Gersonde of Milwaukee, 6 feet 4⅞ inches tall, shared third place in the singles bracket of the American Bowling Congress tournament today by virtue of a 727 series on games of 225, 266 and 236.

The towering kegler thus tied Junie McMahon of Lodi, N. J., a scant eight pins away for the current occupant of first spot in the singles, Ray Hultquist of Chicago.

Joe Zimmerman of Gary, Ind., blasted his way to fifth position in the singles with a 720.

The Brunswick Red Crowns of New York rolled games of 911, 1029 and 1057 to grab fourth place in the team event with a 2997 total.

Pro Stars Now Playing for the Navy

I. I. N. Phonephoto

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Why wouldn't it be logical to stage next summer's heavyweight title fight between Private Joe Louis and Private Billy Conn at Soldier field, Chicago? . . . But if we know Mike Jacobs and his liking for running things right in his own back yard, there's about as much chance that it will be staged at MacArthur, Ohio. . . . Baltimore Boy Scout troops can win free admission to one of the Orioles' ball games by collecting two tons of waste paper during April.

When the Detroit Red Wings crashed into the Stanley cup hockey finals, defenseman Jimmy Orlando wrote this inspirational message on the docker room bulletin board:

"Let's go! It takes two years to make $600 in the army. Fight! Think of the mortgage, fellows. On to victory!"

Monday Matinee

Fred Clarke, one-time manager of the Pirates, predicts that more baseball material will be developed this year than any year of the past decade. He figures there are ten times as many boys who would like to have a chance to play baseball as boys who have been playing.

Today's Guest Star

Dennis Brown, Mount Clemens (Mich.) Daily Monitor: "Vacancy filled: It looks as if the University of Pittsburgh's hopes for admittance to the Big Ten are stymied for the duration. Coach Bernie Bierman's naval commandos at Iowa City seem to have taken over the vacancy and the boys in the back room are betting they'll be sharper on the field than either Chicago or the once-upon-a-time Panthers."

BAGBY OR MILNAR HURL TRIBE OPENER

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 6—Looking ahead to the first day of the regular season, Manager Lou Boudreau says either Jim Bagby or Al Milnar will be the Indians' starting pitcher.

Cleveland opens the season in Detroit on April 14, and plays its first home game April 17. Mel Harder, who has shown improved form this spring after an operation for removal of bone chips from his elbow, will start the first home game unless the weather is too severe.

Bowling Trophies Are Displayed Here

Ten trophies, to be given to winners in the city bowling tournament, are on display in the window of Scott Chisholm's store. They will be awarded to winners of the five-man, doubles, singles and all-events at the annual banquet of the Salem Bowling association.

These trophies are offered through the courtesy of 30 donors who contributed to a fund for this purpose. Cash prizes also will go to the tournament winners.

Team captains in all the city league are voting this week on a proposal to make a slight increase in the entry fee next season to purchase trophies for the 1943 tournament winners.

When the executive committee of the bowling association meets Friday night, April 17, the banquet date will be set and tabulation of the vote on next year's officers will be made.

Bits of Sport

ASHEVILLE, N. C.—Ben Hogan won Land of the Sky open golf tournament for third straight year. His 276 total shunted Lawson Littie to second place for second consecutive time.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Yale university won national A. A. U. indoor swim title for first time with 59 points with Mercersburg, Pa., academy next with seven. Adolph Kiefer broke own world 150-yard backstroke record by 2.2 seconds with time of 1:30.5.

MIAMI, Fla.—The Chief annexed $5,000 Ponce De Leon handicap at Tropical park.

BOWIE, Md.—Cape Cod won second stake victory in three days by taking $5,000 Bowie handicap.

TORONTO—Detroit Red Wings defeated Toronto Maple Leafs, 3 to 2, in opening game of best-of-seven final series for world professional hockey championship.

PHILADELPHIA—Villanova captured national junior A. A. U. indoor track championship with 36 points.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Indianapolis defeated Hershey, 8 to 3, in the fifth and final game of the American Hockey leaguer's championship playoff series.

Buc Hurler Drafted

BIG SPRING, Tex.—Uncle Sam again has helped Frankie Frisch, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, to decide on the personnel of his pitching staff by inducting Big Bill Clemensen into the army. Other Pirates now in the armed services are Pitchers Oadis Swigart and J. Addis Copple, Catcher Vince Smith and Shortstop Billy Cox.

GILLOM EXPECTED TO NAB WING JOB WITHOUT TROUBLE

Melvin Wukotich of Salem Named As Possibility for Backfield Job

By FRITZ HOWELL.

COLUMBUS, April 6.—Some of the "big ones got away" the last two years, but you'll find plenty of All-Ohio High school talent on Ohio State university's football squad which started its second week of spring training today in preparation for the 1942 Big Ten campaign.

Time was when many Buckeye scholastic stars steered clear of their state university and headed for other colleges, but the tide seems to have turned.

On the squad of 55 being put through preliminary paces by Coach Paul E. Brown are more than 20 players who won recognition in 1939 and 1940 on the All-Ohio squads selected by the Associated Press from among the state's 500 football-playing schools.

At the end of the first week's workouts, Brown came up with a list of 30 outstanding candidates for jobs on the varsity. Of that group 15 were on the All-Ohio of the last two scholastic campaigns. Heading the list, of course, is Horace Gillom, the great end, kicker and pass receiver from Massillon, named to a first string wing job on both the 1939 and 1940 All-Ohio elevens.

With Gillom, from the 1939 first team, are George Slusser of Massillon; Paul Sarringhaus, bespectacled star from Hamilton, and Bob Shaw, the husky from Fremont Ross, who were in the backfield.

From the 1940 scholastic first team are Eugene Fekete of Findlay, who may be the starting right halfback for the Bucks, and Tom James of Massillon, prospective left half. Other backfield aces on the squad are Dick Kingham of Massillon and Melvin Wukotich of Salem, from last year's second All-Ohio.

All-Ohio linemen from 1940, in addition to Gillom, are Bob Jabbusch of Elyria, who was on the third team, and honorable mentions Eli Broglio of Massillon, Bill Hackett of London, Gordon Appleby of Massillon, and Dick Heller of Lakewood.

UP-TO-MINUTE CLOTHES GEARED FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Up-to-the-minute clothes geared to meet all occasions is the latest style news. Three models that meet these requirements are pictured; left, a black net dinner dress with torso fitted bodice topped with shirred net, and full blown roses decorating the skirt. Right, a tailored suit combining three colors—smoke gray fitted jacket, wine-colored pleated skirt and cloisonne blue printed blouse. A double duty print dress, in rose pattern crepe, is shown below. It is a street length, has a tiny cape and when that is removed reveals a classic sleeveless, square-necked frock.

BRITISH PLANES HIT ARMS PLANTS

only five planes were lost—"a very satisfactory" ratio.

Masses of German and Axis-allied soldiers are clashing with Soviet Russian troops today in the snow and mud of the long, thawing Russian battlefield in heavy fighting apparently preliminary to Adolf Hitler's expected spring offensive.

The Russians declared that 102 German planes were shot down or destroyed on the ground Saturday and announced that the Invaders lost 40,000 officers and men killed on the central front between March 23 and April 4.

The Moscow radio said German planes raided Leningrad Saturday night, the first big raid on Russia's second city in months. Bombs were said to have killed some persons in the city.

The Germans announced yesterday their planes had bombed with heavy explosives two Russian battleships and two heavy cruisers at Leningrad and Kronstadt, Red naval bases.

FIVE ARE KILLED IN AIRPLANE CRASH

MIAMI, Fla., April 6.—Civilian aeronautics authorities today investigated the Easter Sunday collision of two civilian airplanes that resulted in the deaths of five persons.

Both planes fell in a residential section, one striking a house, damaging it, and the other crashing on a lawn. Occupants of the homes were not injured.

The dead:

William J. Britton, Jr., 25, son of the former world's welterweight champion, Jack Britton, and brother of the fighter, Bobby Britton.

Lieut. Don Kenneth Jones, 23, of Chicago, army reserve officer on duty with an intelligence unit here.

Mrs Joan Wert Jones, of Ames, Iowa, the army man's bride of three months.

Laurence Hartzell, 25, former Cincinnatian.

H. M. Carruthers, Jr., 20, of a wealthy retired Miami real estate operator.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Jones were in one plane, which the officer rented to take his bride for an Easter flight.

Britton, flight instructor for the Embry-Riddle Aeronautical institute, was giving instrument flying instruction to Hartzell and Carruthers in the other craft.

President Has Cold

WASHINGTON, April 6.—President Roosevelt, on orders of his physician, remained in his White House quarters today because of a head cold. The cold prevented his attendance at Easter services yesterday.

Fisherman Is Killed

CINCINNATI, April 6—Struck by a richocheting bullet, 15-year-old Thomas Sullivan was killed while fishing in the Ohio river. Police sought several youths who, a friend of Sullivan said, fled after firing a rifle.

OHIO PLANTS SET OUTPUT RECORDS

Labor-Management Committees Submit Reports On Production

"Our Warren, O., blast furnace produced what we believe to be an all-time world's record for blast furnace production in any one month—41,351 tons. We broke our all-time ingot production record for the corporation. We produced 75,496 tons of electric furnace steel, an all-time record," which the company said virtually equaled the "electric furnace ingot production for the entire country for 1937."

In March, said Republic, individual departmental production records were established "on our No. 1 blast furnace at Buffalo, our No. 3 blast furnace at Cleveland, our shops at Massillon, Canton, Buffalo and Gadsden, and on so many of our bar mills, plane mills and other finishing departments that a complete list would appear almost fantastic."

Owens-Illinois Glass Co., Toledo, said it was establishing joint labor-management committees in a score of plants, and Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co. said production drives are under way in 25 plants, each with a committee which will make individual reports.

LEGION CHIEF HITS VARIED WAR RUMORS

CHICAGO, April 6—Lynn Stambaugh, national commander of the American Legion in a radio address last night quoted a statement he credited to Secretary Knox of the navy saying that "the nation's Pacific fleet in ships, planes and men is even stronger today than it was before Dec. 7."

The Legion commander, deploring complacency and rumor mongering, urged a return to "100 per cent Americanism", and asked that everyone demand proof of the many rumors and "inside stories" relating to the war.

He quoted a statement from former Commander Ed Hayes, now a special assistant to Secretary Knox, which said:

"The navy department is aware of the many rumors which have arisen about the Japanese action at Pearl Harbor, rumors so fantastic in some cases as to include the whispered statement that the Pacific fleet was completely wiped out. I am authorized by Secretary Knox to state for the first time that as of this date, and for some time past, the Pacific fleet in ships, planes and men today is even stronger than it was before Dec. 7th."

Stambaugh urged Legion members to assume leadership in the civilian effort.

2,0 More Go To War

Cleveland's Euclid avenue parade was climaxed at public square with the induction of 1255 volunteers into the army air force and 75 selectees into the army. A total of 1,700 troops with 300 pieces of equipment went to Cleveland from Camp Forrest, Tenn., to participate.

At Cincinnati, 1,800 Camp Forrest soldiers and 350 pieces of equipment paraded with armored units from Fort Knox. The USO planned a dance at Music hall tonight for the visiting troops.

Orville Wright, co-inventor of the airplane, held the honored spot in Dayton's parade which featured a unit of defense council messengers—40 horsemen known as "Diamond Riders".

At Findlay, members of the Hancock county big game hunters' defense unit donned hunting garb and slung their rifles for the march. Sheriff Lyle Harvitt is captain of the outfit.

Akron's parade will be held at 8 p. m. It will include scout and combat cars and anti-aircraft guns of the Bofors type.

BONDLESS, PELLEY REMAINS IN JAIL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 6—Unable to furnish bond, William Dudley Pelley, chief of the Silver Shirts, remained in the Marion county jail today awaiting grand jury action on an affidavit charging him with sedition in connection with articles published in his magazine, "The Galilean."

The silver-goateed publisher of anti-Semitic magazines said he would plead innocent to any indictments brought against him.

Pelley was unable to obtain his freedom last night although U. S. Marshal Julius Wichser allowed him several hours to post a $15,000 bond before ordering him to jail. Pelley was brought here yesterday from the east after his arrest Saturday in Darien, Conn.

District Attorney B. Howard Caughran, who prepared the complaint against Pelley under the 1917 espionage act, said he had not decided whether to call a special grand jury or to submit it to the regular session in June.

Pelley, whose organization was charged with being Fascist in Dies committee hearings, has suspended publication of both "The Galilean" and the "Roll Call" which he had been printing at Noblesville, Ind.

He told reporters he had published nothing that some columnists and many other persons had not said. He said he had asserted Hitler's program was "Okeh for Germany," and that he knew conditions in Germany before Hitler took over.

Resume Lot Probe

COLUMBUS, April 6—A federal court jury, rested after an Easter Sunday respite, resumed deliberations today in the case of 35 men accused of mail fraud and conspiracy in the sale of central Ohio cemetery lots.

Foreman Floyd Cady of Newport told Judge Robert R. Nevin late Saturday that a verdict would be reached, but was unable to estimate when.

THIRTEEN INJURED IN TROLLEY CRASH

CLEVELAND, April 6.—Thirteen persons were injured and nearly 100 others shaken today in a rear-end collision of two trolley cars on the Detroit-Superior high level bridge 196 feet above the Cuyahoga river.

Chief casualty was Motorman Charles H. Wendorff, 35. With a broken leg he was pinned for an hour inside the battered cab of his West 25th street car. Rescuers cut him free with torches.

Wendorff's car, bound downtown loaded with passengers, plowed into the rear of a stalled Lorain avenue car on the southernmost of four tracks at the center of the 591-foot span.

The conductor of the Lorain car, whose trolley pulley had left the wire, waved frantically at Wendorff, but Wendorff said he did not see the other car until it was too late to stop.

The impact battered in the cab of Wendorff's car, pinning him between the control box and the back of the cab. For an hour, the motorman was lodged in an upright position as rescuers cut away the heavy steel plates of the cab's front to release him.

The crash delayed downtown-bound west side trolley traffic for 30 to 45 minutes.

BATTLE FRAUD IN EXPORT LICENSES

Board of Economic Warfare Officials Keep Goods From Axis Hands

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Widespread fraud in applications for export licenses to circumvent the policy of blacklisting foreign firms which do business with the Axis is being detected almost daily, board of economic warfare officials said today.

Some of the attempted frauds are clumsy and are caught immediately. For example, a drugstore in South America evidently screening a Nazi firm ordered 250 tons of steel I-beams.

Officials reported the blacklist had been so effective in keeping American goods out of enemy hands that foreign concerns acting for enemy powers were now using dummy names or misusing the names of non-blacklisted firms in applying for licenses.

The export control division recently blocked a large shipment of quinine to Mexico. The application was filed in the name of the Mexican government and its validity was suspected because of the size of the order and the fact that Mexico had not been accustomed to buying quinine here.

A line of trucks loaded with small packages of drugs and chemicals for retail stores in Mexico was halted at the border when it was discovered no such stores had ordered the goods.

Many German and Italian orders for South American goods are blocked before the orders are received by the shippers. British mail censors take care of this in West Indies ports.

The United States to date has forbidden trade with 4,494 firms and individuals in Latin America and 1,894 in Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey because of suspected enemy ties.

Officer, Wife Killed

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., April 6—a car crash killed Lieut. Ralph C. Major of Ottawa, O., and injured his wife, Louise, seriously last night. The accident occurred at Lickdale, two miles east of the military reservation.

DEATHS

CLARENCE J. BRINKER

LISBON, April 6—Clarence J. Brinker, 65, motorman on the former Y. & O. railroad and well known farmer of Center township, died at his home just north of Lisbon at 10:15 a. m. Sunday following several months' illness of heart trouble.

He was born in the community just north of Lisbon, Jan. 10, 1877, a son of Edward and Amelia Worman Brinker, and had been a lifelong resident in that vicinity. He was a member of St. Jacob's Reformed church.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Dora Ewing Brinker, with whom he was united in marriage in 1907, and two brothers, Bert Brinker of Columbiana, and Rolland Brinker of Lisbon, R. D. 5. A son, Claire Brinker, was killed in an automobile accident six years ago.

Services will be held at St. Jacob's church at 2 p. m. Wednesday in charge of the pastor, Rev. Carl W. Bormuth, and burial will in the Lisbon cemetery.

Friends may call at the home anytime.
